Engineer Jared Johnson met with the Board to provide secondary roads updates. Knapp opened two mowing bids received, they were as follows: Joe Catanzareti for $200 per time; Steve Clark for $165 per time. These bids represent mowing all satellite sites for the department, including the main shop in Mount Ayr. The Board moved forward with accepting the bid from Steve Clark.

Johnson reviewed with the Board the proposed 28E Agreement between the county and the City of Ellston. The proposed agreement provides for the county to perform a specified level of maintenance certain times of the year, to assist the City with upkeep. The Board moved forward with approval.

Johnson reported all required easements have been acquired for the Redding Weir project.

The contractor poured the bridge deck for the Washington 20 project Monday April 5th. The concrete blocks were poured for the rail. The contractor then worked on forming the remainder of the concrete rail. The dirt subcontractor has had to work around wet and muddy conditions; however, they are still making progress. They have been working primarily on ditch cuts, but last week began cutting the roadway down to grade.

We are now after the March 1st early seeding date set by the Iowa DOT for the Routh box project, Johnson said. The department is working with the contractor to get this work completed.

The crew constructed the temporary stream diversion and excavate for culvert construction on the Tingley 4 project. Last week the crew was able to pour two floor sections. This week the plan is to pour the west headwall/barrel section and east floor section.

Holmes expressed concern with the shape of the gravel roads in his territory as he has received many complaints from residents as well. Johnson will address the situation including the possibility of adding another blade operator to assist with the maintenance.

The Board moved forward with approving a $40 monthly cell phone stipend to County Attorney Clint Spurrier.

The Board moved forward with approving to advertise for a Courthouse Janitor position.
