The Board opened the public hearing for the proposed property tax levies for FY26. Those in attendance include Lyndon and Dee Davenport, Assessor Melinda England and Darrel Dodge with Mount Ayr Record News.

The Board explained the purpose of the hearing, stating it is required as a result of HF718 passing during the 2023 legislative session. The document simply sets the max levies and revenue for the county. Knapp explained the county continues to reduce expenses in order to meet the $3.50 levy requirement by FY29. This amounts to about $100,000 reduction each year in the general basic fund. The Board went on to state, even with current talks in legislation for more property tax reform for coming years, they will continue to comply with HF718 requirements.
